November 9th is going to be pajama day for $1.00, there will be something similar going in Dec and Jan as well. Money will be going to hurricane relief. Also on the 9th the 4th-5th graders will be presenting their concerts at 6 and 7 pm. They have worked hard and are excited to have their families present. Planning for the winter assembly has just been finalized and we have booked a magician which will be held on Dec 22. Should be a good time for all.

Traffic- Lots of reminders and concerns have gone out about traffic with pickup and drop off so please watch your emails. Teachers are getting familiar with kid's families and names so thank you for having the name tags on your dash. Please be mindful of seatbelts, speeding and cell phones while on school property. If you see any one being unsafe, please let me know. All feedback positive and negative is welcome and needed

Parent Teacher Conferences was a huge success once again with attendance at 100%!! THANK you for that. Lunch with loved ones was also a success with lots of family attending. The kids really enjoyed it and things were able to run smoothly all around.

Just a note about the boundary change and Blue Sage Elementary opening up. For those of you who currently have 4th grade students in Skyline and you are set to be in the new boundaries for Blue Sage you do have the choice to be grandfathered in at Skyline if you would like to have the kids finish elementary school here. Dec 15th is the deadline to get those requests in. If you have any questions please be sure to reach out to Mr Luebbe soon.
